

N. Y. U. and Fordham Clash To-day Columbia Meets Union—Macomber to Race Next Year

Robb Captain of Columbia Football Team

Former Penn State Player to Lead Eleven—Thorp in Charge of Practice

Leutenant Chester Robb, whose brilliant playing has contributed in such large measure to the success of the Columbia football team, was yesterday elected captain of the eleven. Robb was captain-elect of the Penn State team when he was transferred to the Columbia S. A. T. C., so his is the novel experience of being leader of two college eleven in one season.

Fred Dawson, head coach, of the Blue and White, is still wrestling with influenza, but he insisted yesterday on taking a final look at his team before its clash with the Union to-day. He was forced to content himself with giving a few instructions to Tom Thorp, the assistant coach, as he felt so badly that he was obliged to return home after spending a few minutes on the field.

Thorp put the men through a long signal drill and then gave Houlahan a protracted work-out in punting, the regular backs being delegated to catch the spirals. The team was made up of Forsythe, left end; Robinson, left tackle; Kinninger, left guard; Fargo, center; Parks, right guard; Kraus, right tackle; Stevens, right end; Canary, quarterback; Shaw, left halfback; Quinn, right halfback, and Houlahan, fullback.

Later on Robb took his place at quarter and Canary went to right halfback. It is expected that Towser, the heavy tackle from Matuchen High School, will relieve Kraus at some stage of to-day's game. Zychlinski, Day and Mennotti will also doubtless get the line-up.

Levering Tyson, graduate manager of athletics, announced yesterday that negotiations with Princeton for a game at the Polo Grounds for the benefit of the United War Work Campaign on November 16 had fallen through because of the refusal of the Princeton authorities to allow the varsity team to play any college team away from home. The chances are now that Lafayette will get the vacant date but the contest will be waged at South Field and the receipts will be devoted to the demands of the Columbia S. A. T. C.

Maroon Eleven Has Fast and Snappy Drill With Signals

Fast and snappy signal drill was the order of the day at Fordham Field yesterday afternoon. In the final workout for the game with New York University this afternoon, Coach Siskind sent the Maroon squad through an hour and a half's practice. The emphasis of the play was rehearsed.

Part of the practice was given over to punting. Captain Frisch got off several long spirals, some of them covering distances of fifty and sixty yards. Every member of the team was possible exception of O'Hare, left tackle, is fit for a hard struggle. O'Hare's hip, which was bruised in the St. John's game, has been causing him some trouble. But Coach Siskind intends to have him start the game.

Capablanca Certain of First Prize at Chess

By winning his adjourned game with Oscar Chajes from the eleventh round at the Manhattan Chess Club yesterday Joe R. Capablanca, of Havana, made sure of the first prize, having made a total score of 10 points out of a possible 11, irrespective of what may happen in the final round this afternoon, when he will meet Boris Kostich, of the Western championship, for the second time.

Kostich, like Capablanca, has not lost a single game, and, with a score of 2 to 2, is sure of second prize, being only a point behind the first place in the competition. The third and fourth prizes rest between F. J. Marshall, O. Chajes and D. Janowski.

Service Football Teams Meet at Ebbets Field

Ebbets Field will be the scene of two football games during the week of November 17 and many college players of other seasons will be seen in action at the Flatbush park. The first game will be played on Friday, November 17, between the eleven from Camp Dix and the Aviators' team from Hempstead, L. I. The Dix team will be picked from the best eleven of the Westchester town camp, where many of the players have been working out this season.

Mike Tiernan Dies From Tuberculosis At Bellevue Hospital

Mike Tiernan, fifty-one years old, famous home run hitter and outfielder of the New York Giants, back in the early nineties, went to his death as silent and reserved as he accepted the decisions of umpires, which gained for him the name "Silent" on the diamond. Mike died of tuberculosis at the Bellevue Hospital, Thursday night, with his lips sealed to the last as to his true identity. On the hospital record was written in the name of "Joseph Egan, fifty-one, retired, of 2423 Eighth Avenue." None knew that it was "Silent" Mike Tiernan who had lain in the hospital since October 14, patiently waiting for the end.

Mike entered the institution on October 14, giving the name of Egan, and few would realize how ennobled and once rugged structure of the athlete looked. It was not until late yesterday when an undertaker sent by his wife Mary, claimed the body, that his identity was known. His death certificate read: "Michael Tiernan, fifty-one years old, 2423 Eighth Avenue. Death due to tuberculosis."

The "Hard-Boiled" Honor Lieut. "Shonts" O'Brien

According to the printed announcements it was the "first annual smoker" given by the employees of Governors' Island R. R. that held forth at the Parkway Palace, at 110th Street and Fifth Avenue, last night and this morning in honor of Lieutenant Philip J. O'Brien, Mr. Shonts's only rival, but it was really much more than that.

In the first place, Lieutenant Izzy the Kaplan, the erstwhile demon photographer, who has challenged the Kaiser to meet him at twenty paces, with rapid fire rifles, made a speech, which will be published in pamphlet form as soon as the experts have finished decoding it, and then the "hands" on Lieutenant O'Brien's army route entertained with the latest in the form of dance music.

Every Hard Boiled Egg in the Greater City, including the "Iron Duke of Park Row," was present, and they all were happy. Not a cent was spent.

The winners of the preliminaries at the gun clubs to-day will come to New York on the afternoon train for the semi-final, which will be held at the New York Athletic Club. The six high guns in Monday's contest will be eligible for the Polo Grounds titular race, together with the Western champions nominated by the committee.

N. Y. U. Eleven Awaits Visit From Fordham

The New York University football team devoted yesterday afternoon to a long signal drill, preparatory to the game with Fordham at Ohio Field this afternoon. This contest will mark the first athletic competition between the two universities since 1904.

Boxers in Bronx Show

A boxing, wrestling and vaudeville show will be given free every night next week in connection with the United War Work drive in the Bronx. It will be staged by Billy Gibson, in the new building at Chateaux Thierry district of the Bronx. A thirty-foot stage has been erected in the square at 148th Street and Willis Avenue and accommodations made for a crowd of 5,000 each night.

While decorators were bustling over the Horse Show adornments at Madison Square Garden yesterday morning the early birds of the 1,100 entries were knocking at the stable doors. The very first arrivals were the show horses, the Eastern contingent, including the hackneys of D. R. Hanna, from Lenox, Mass.; Mrs. Joseph S. Sylvester, Louis K. Liggett and Miss Eleanor Sears, the latter sending hunters, saddle horses, harness horses and harness ponies. Philadelphia and Providence exhibits and the hunters from Milbrook, N. Y., of Mrs. E. H. Carle also came in. An arrival of note was Virginia Girl, the brown saddle mare bred and entered by James W. Gerard, formerly Ambassador to Germany.

The formal opening of the Horse Show, which is expected to raise $100,000 for the United War Work Campaign fund, takes place at 11 o'clock on Monday morning and there will be three sessions daily until the close on Friday night. Horses will be received this morning, but the several exhibitors, including Judge William H. Moore, who has the high record of sixty-eight entries in the heavy harness classes, will be quartered at private stables.

Pipp at first and Nunamaker behind the bat were familiar figures at the Polo Grounds for years.

Crimson Service Eleven Ready for Clash With Tufts

Tigers Given Permission For Polo Grounds Game

Cambridge, Mass., Nov. 8.—Harvard's service team had its final tuning up for its opening game with the Tufts S. A. T. C. eleven in the stadium to-morrow, and this afternoon not only had a long drill on its offensive plays, but worked on kickoffs and defenses against forward passes, of which Tufts is expected to use many to-morrow.

The rush line, which will average about 175 pounds, has made good progress in the last three days and is on a par with the light backfield, which has been very good all along. Among the older players on the team are Daley, former Dartmouth varsity wing for four years; Levine, of last year's freshman team at Syracuse, and Coleman, of last season's Harvard informal.

Most of the other players have had only preparatory experience. Tufts has a shifty team which has been well coached by Pierotti, formerly center at Washington and Lee.

Dinner at Mount Vernon Club

Members of the Mount Vernon Country Club will tender a dinner to-night to Irene Franklin and Bert Green, the well known stage artists, who have lately returned from France, after "doing their bit" by giving performances for the boys at the front. A large turnout of their fellow members is expected in honor of Mr. and Mrs. Green.

Final Games Sunday

The final baseball games of the season will be played at Olympic Field to-morrow, at 1 p. m., the big league team representing the Tufts and Long shipyard will meet the Lincoln Giants. In the final game the crack New London team will play the Lincoln Giants.

Burns-Ertle Bout To-night

At the Hexamer Riding Academy in Weehawken to-night Frankie Burns and John Ertle will meet in their much postponed bout, and the winner will get a chance to meet Pete Herman for the championship in a twenty-round bout at New Orleans.
